Prologue:

Cutscene: ??? Outside the demon lord's fortress.

Rex has defeated the demon lord along with their party of 4. The cumulonimbus clouds have started to clear steer of the heaven's view. Rex comes out of the fortress and lifts up their sword with excitement. Every soldier from the kingdom is chanting Rex's name. The sun's ray reflects off of Rex's sword and hits their eye.

Scene 1: Afternoon. Rex's Room.

The chanting in unison slowly turns into a singular female voice which Rex's recognizes to be of their mother, Abigail's. The sun's rays are from the windows whose drapes are always kept closed because they do not like the sun. Abigail has been calling out Rex's name for a while asking them to wake up as it is almost time for lunch. Christmas holidays are a blessing for Rex as they do not like going out or studying for classes. Abigail with a disappointed look in her eyes asks them if they stayed up late playing video games again. Rex argues that it's Christmas season so they're free to do whatever they want. Abigail with no intention to waste anymore of her energy decides to inform Rex that lunch is ready and they should take a shower and come down to have lunch together with the family. Abigail exits the room.

Rex checks their phone and scrolls a bit of 'CreekFrog shorts' for around 10-20 minutes and then decides it's time to get out of the bed. After taking a shower and changing into a fresh pair of clothes, they walk down towards their dining hall (living room).

Scene 2: Lunch time. Living Room

Rex sees their father, Dexter sitting at the table which is a rare sight. Dexter is a workaholic who works as a Senior Game Developer for 'Crops Inc.' which is one of the most popular indie game development companies at that time. He only leaves his game lab when it's time for breakfast and dinner. Rex in a fun manner mocks Dexter's appearance at the table to which Abigail replies that it's a part of a punishment for forgetting to send the Christmas cards to Abigail's parents. Dexter is not allowed to go into the lab today as per Abigail's punishment terms. So, he has no choice but to participate in family activities which includes today's lunch. Luckily Abigail made lasagna today which was one of Rex's top 10 favorite dishes. During lunch, Dexter tells Rex that the new game which he was working on is finally playable although there are still many bugs which have yet to be fixed. Rex tries to enquire more about the game but Dexter tells them that they have to wait till it's out for beta test phase to play it as he does not want to present a buggy game to them. After lunch Rex goes back to their room.

Scene 3: After lunch. Rex's Room

Rex is bored as they have already 100% completed all the games they own. They decide to watch a new anime but nothing feels interesting. Their mind is pre-occupied with the new game Dexter is working on. They recall that Dexter is not allowed into the lab today so he plots a plan to visit

Dexter's game lab after midnight in order to play the game. They decide to wait for dinner and everyone to hit the bed.

Scene 4: After midnight. Inside Dexter's Game Lab.

Rex tries to log into Dexter's PC but it's locked. The password hint just says beloved. He turns to the picture frames that sit on Dexter's desk. One has their family photo. One is from his wedding day. The last one has Rex's picture from when they were born. Rex enters his date of birth which actually turns out to be the password. After gaining access to Dexter's PC, Rex searches through his computer in order to find the game. He finds the game but as soon as he launches it, the screen turns off. Then the lab starts shaking violently and the floor starts glitching and falling into the void along with everything in the room.

Scene 5: Next morning. Dexter's Game Lab.

Rex finds themselves passed out on the floor near the entrance of the game lab and assumes that they tripped on something and knocked themselves out. But something feels very off and eerie but they are unable to put a finger on it. Dexter has not entered the lab yet means he can still get away without being caught. They make a run for the door only to find out that on the other side of the door lies not the corridor but a dense forest with a roof covered in green. What felt like the dawn was just the thick trees denying bright light to fall on their skin.

What? Where? How? Huh? Only questions came to Rex's mind but they could not make anything out of the situation. Rex felt like they were in a dream and tried pinching themselves. It only hurt but to their surprise, the surroundings did not change. Rex did not want to believe what they were seeing. But then a rattling noise in the bushes stopped all the questions in their mind. They made a run for the lab and locked the door.

Instantly after locking the door, they sat leaning on the door and then came to a realization that they have been teleported to the game world.
